PROactive PRONUNCIATION

Voiced “Th” to D Sentences

To pronounce these sounds together, we will avoid putting a pause or a break between the sounds. We will slide from the “th” position with your tongue between your teeth, then move to the /d/ position with your tongue on the alveolar ridge. There is no vowel or “eh” sound between these two consonants.

Even after the fight, I left unscathed

I breathed in the wonderful fresh spring air

I mouthed out the words to my friend in the library

She smoothed out the tablecloth to prepare for dinner

The calm music easily soothed the baby

I sunbathed all day and got the worst sunburn of my life

He tithed to the church to help the poor

The worm wriggled and writhed in the mud

I have always loathed watching horror movies
