PROactive PRONUNCIATION

P Initial Words

Get those tissues out! Take some time to focus on adding a puff of air or “h” after each /p/ sound. Watch as the tissue flies up to indicate that you have added aspiration to the sound. If you don’t see the tissue move, try to purposefully add the ‘h” sound after the consonant and see if that helps. If you don’t have a tissue, use your hand to feel the hot air hit your palm after the sound.

package
painful
painted
pancake
paper
parade
parent
parking
parrot

passing
password
peanut
pencil
put people
pizza
pocket
pot