PROactive PRONUNCIATION

“SH” Spelling

/ʃ/ in English is relatively straightforward in spelling, represented by the "sh" letters. There are always a few exceptions in English because, well… it's English. So, the /ʃ/ is spelled with “c” and "ch" in words like:

ocean	champagne	machine parachute	chalet	brochure
chauffeur	chic	chute

The /ʃ/ is also pronounced when words have “tion” and “ci/ce” words, like in:

action	information	facial nation	motion	licorice
mention	musician	groceries attention	delicious
section	special

We also have the “sh” sound in the word “sugar” even though it starts with an “s.”