PROactive PRONUNCIATION

“CH” vs. “J” Minimal Pair Words

If you turn your voice off for /dʒ/ or “j,” it will sound like a “ch." The word “jip” would sound like “chip.” The tongue and lip positions are exactly the same for both sounds. The only difference is the voice is off for “ch.” To adjust the /dʒ/ sound, your sole focus should be adding your voice and feeling the vibration on your throat.

“ch" vs.	"j"
char	jar	chump	jump
cheap	jeep	chunk	junk
cheer	jeer	h	age
cheese	jeez	batch	badge
cherry	jerry	britches	bridges
chest	jest	larch	large
chin	gin	march	marge
chalk	jock	perch	purge
choke	joke	rich	ridge
chug	jug	search	surge

“Y” vs. “J” Minimal Pair Words

“Y" vs.	"J"
you’ll	jewel	yin	gin
yam	jam	yoke	joke
year	jeer	yip	gip
yet	jet	yak	Jack
use	juice	yolk	joke
yell	gel		