PROactive PRONUNCIATION

“R” vs. “W” Minimal Pair Sentences

Ron whacked the rack by accident
Ted wagged a rag in the air to signal to his friend to come
I felt rage when my wage was significantly decreased
I have to stay awake to get to the store to buy a rake
Where is the rare diamond?
He always raves about the waves at that beach
Ray decided to weigh himself today
We’re near the rear of the theatre
She reared a very weird child
You’ll have to walk through the weeds and reeds to get there
I went to grab the rent check
The rest of the family moved west
Which artist became rich?
I want to ride in a wide boat
You were right about the white paint
The girl winked at him at the skating rink
I ripped the Cool Whip lid by accident
The peach was so ripe I had to wipe the drips off my mouth
The lion will roar when he’s ready for war
There isn’t much room for the fetus in her womb
I’ll be back from my run at one o’clock