PROactive PRONUNCIATION

T in Stressed Syllable Words

/t/ in Stressed syllables:
Below are a few examples of the /t/ between /r/ and vowels. The /t/ is not a flap here because it is in the stressed word position. Here, the stressed syllable is underlined and bold. In a stressed syllable, the true /t/ is pronounced with a pop of aspiration or air released, NOT a quick /d/ sound.

artistic	hotel	potential
attack	institution	protect
attempt	martini	protection
attention	material	reputation
attire	meticulous	retail
attractive	opportunity	retaliate between	participate	retirement
certificate	particular	return competition	petite	sanitation
detail	petition	sensitivity
detailed	plateau	statistical
determine	platonic
guitar	potato

Be aware that as you change a word and add syllables, the use of a flap /t/ will change with it. Below, the stressed syllables are bold and underlined. The /t/ remains a true "popped" /t/ in STRESSED syllables, but a flap /d/ sound in unstressed syllables.

artist	"AR dist"
artistic	"ar TIS dik"
photo	"FOW dow"
photograph	"FOW duh graf"
photographer	"fow TAH gruh fer"
photographic	"fow dow GRA fik"