PROactive PRONUNCIATION

“EE” /i/ in Final “Y” Sentences

The issue that speakers have with the “y” is that they produce more of a lower tongue position as in /ɪ/ “ih,” so “happy” /hæpi/ would sound like “happih” /hæpɪ/ and “many” /mɛni/ would sound like “menih” /mɛnɪ/. Practice the words below to feel your /i/ “EE” smile pronunciation at the ends of these words.

She’s pretty

We are fancy-free

That cost a pretty penny

I came early to the noisy party

I am craving some really fatty foods

I’m ready to carry the heavy weights

You need to speak carefully to the family

I’m sorry the juice machine is empty

I’m really only hungry for honey cookies

I’m very happy you came early to the party

I am happy when I am busy doing my work efficiently
