PROactive PRONUNCIATION

Syllable Rule #6

Abbreviations and Acronyms:

An acronym is when letters represent a phrase. Abbreviations are short forms of longer words.
For example, a CEO is an acronym for Chief Executive Officer. If the acronym has two letters, both will be equal stress:

Example:

BA	ID	MD
MA	PR	OD

If the acronym has three letters, the stress will be placed on the final letter.

MBA	TBA	PDA
AKA	FYI	ESL
FAQ	DNR	GST
RIP	DNA

Acronyms and abbreviations that are pronounced as a single word would follow the stress rules for nouns. E.g., NA-TO “nay dow,” TE-SL “tess uhl.”