PROactive PRONUNCIATION

Intonation With Choices

When you provide choices, the upward intonation or rising intonation happens on the choices offered, and the downward intonation or falling intonation occurs on the last choice. The downward intonation helps the listener know you have finished offering options.

Would you like tea or coffee?

Are you coming Wednesday or Thursday?

Do you want to go to my place or your place?