PROactive PRONUNCIATION

Linking:
Consonants to Vowels

Linking is like squishing words together. Ultimately what you are doing is keeping your voice going without turning it off as you move from one word to another. If you think of your voice like a motor, just keep it going and never turn it off within the phrase. Put your hand on your throat and say, “ahhhhh.” You should feel your voice vibrate on your throat. Linking means that this vibration should stay on for the whole phrase.

Keep your voice motor running for these phrases without any pause or gap between the words:

How are you doing?
What’s up?
Great weather today!
Nice to meet you!
How do you do?
It’s a pleasure to meet you.
It was great to meet you.
Have a good day!
What’s the time?
What a lovely day today!

Good evening.
Talk to you soon.
I hope you’re doing well.
Great talking to you.
Good afternoon.
Thank you.
Thank you very much.
I’m doing well.
I’m good.
I’m doing great!

What a day!
I hope you had a nice weekend.
Have a great week.
Have a great weekend.
Have a great afternoon.
Have a great evening.
Talk to you later.
See you later.
Talk to you soon!

Consonants to Vowels:

You can look at linking as pushing the consonants at the ends of words forward to the next vowel in a word:

Add and subtract	A dand subtract
All alone	A lalone
Bad apple	Ba dapple
Bid a large amount	Bi da lar jamount
Calm and peaceful	Cah mand peaceful
Cob of corn	Cah bof corn
Come on	co mon
Crawl away	Craw laway
Curl a string	Cur la string

Do we have it?	do we ha vit?
Farm animal	Far manimal
First in line	firs tin line
From a friend	Fro ma friend
Germs are everywhere	Germ za reverywhere
Give it away	Gi vi daway
Good afternoon	Goo dafternoon
Good evening	Goo devening
Grab a bag	Gra ba bag
Grab it	Gra bit
Hard answers	Har danswers
Have a great day	Ha va great day
Have a try	Ha va try
Hazel eyes	Haze leyes
Hid away	Hi daway
How are you?	Ho ware you?
Hug a friend	Hu ga friend
I'm alright	I' malright
I'm over it	I' moverit
It's over there	It' sover there
Just a minute	Jus ta minute
Kept it up	kep ti dup
Last one standing	las twun standing
Love is beautiful	Lo vis beautiful
Mad about you	Ma dabout you
Movies are amazing	Movie za ramazing
My job is awesome	My jo bi zawesome
Pay a fee	Pa ya fee
Red apple	Re dapple
Sad emotion	Sa demotion
Skipped a beat	skip ta beat
Take it away	Ta ki daway
Team approach	Tea mapproach
That's amazing	That' samazing
Where are you?	Whe rare you?

Either way you look at it, the point is to avoid any real pauses or breaks between the words.