PROactive PRONUNCIATION

Contractions

Contractions are when two words are put together as one word.

FULL FORM	CONTRACTION	EXAMPLES
Would
I would	I'd	I'd love to go
You would	you'd	You'd love it there
He would	he'd	He'd love to go to the movies tonight
She would	she'd	She'd have to ask her dad
We would	we'd	We'd love to come if we knew where it was
They would	they'd	They'd have loved this movie
Who would	who'd	Who'd like to come?
It would	it'd	It'd be wise to bring a coat
Have
I have	I've	I've got an idea
You have	you've	You've never been there?
We have	we've	We've never been there before
They have	they've	They've never been there before
Why have	why've	Why've you not answered?
Who have	who've	Who've you asked?
Who has	who's	Who's been there before?
How have	how've	How've you been?
Will
I will	I'll	I'll be there
You will	you'll	You'll have to bring your ticket
He will	he'll	He'll be late
She will	she'll	She'll be late
We will	we'll	We'll be late
They will	they'll	They'll be late
Who will	who'll	Who'll be going with me?
What will	what'll	What'll you say to him?

FULL FORM	CONTRACTION	EXAMPLES
It will	it'll	It'll be cold tonight
Did
Why did	why'd	Why'd you go without me?
Who did	who'd	Who'd you bring?
Are/am/is
I am	I'm	I'm definitely going
You are	you're	You're coming with me
He is	he's	He's a friend
She is	she's	She's a friend
We are	we're	We're bringing the tickets
They are	they're	They're bringing the tickets
Why are	why're	Why're you taking the car?
Why is	why's	Why's he coming?
Who is	who's	Who's driving?
It is	it's	It's for her
Not
Cannot	can't	He can't go
Will not	won't	He won't go
Did not	didn't	He didn't go
Do not	don't	Don't you dare go!
Has not	hasn't	He hasn't given it to me yet
Should not	shouldn't	She shouldn't go
Would not	wouldn't	She wouldn't go
Could not	couldn't	She couldn't go
Others
Have to	Spelling-there is no change, but in speech:	"Haftuh"
Going to	Spelling-there is no change, but in speech:	"gonna"
Has to	Spelling-there is no change, but in speech:	"hastuh"
Give me	Spelling-there is no change, but in speech:	"Gimme"